

Link of the Week

Even though the internet is full of information, it can sometimes be difficult to find reliable, high-quality web sites. The West Linn Public Library is here to help! Every week, our staff combs the the web and features a particularly noteworthy web site that we think you'll find useful. Past links can be found on the library's Delicious site.

5/21/10

Cute Overload

Because there are days when you just need to look at pictures of kittens. This popular blog provides a daily dose of cute imagery, found somewhere on the Internet or emailed in by a fan. Browse categories ("Pocket Pets," "Cute or Sad?," "The Rules of Cuteness") or browse the Glossary to learn official cuteness terminology. My favorite? The Unusual Animals section, because cute doesn't always mean puppies and kittens!

- Library

Source URL (retrieved on 2010-05-28 06:22): <http://westlinnoregon.gov/library/link-week>